Dear Safety Harbor Residents,

Safety Harbor has a real Who's Who when it comes to birds of prey. This is evidenced by our many bird lovers and photography enthusiasts who have captured breathtaking pictures of these beautiful creatures, as can be witnessed in Philippe Park where several of these birds often gather. You may have heard about the beloved owls in Philippe Park that recently died from anticoagulant rat poisoning. The poisons that killed these owls are indiscriminate, and they could also poison your pets.

Our city is proud to host multiple bald eagles, great horned owls, barred owls, eastern screech owls, red-tailed hawks, red shouldered hawks, swallow-tailed kites, and short-tailed hawks, the latter two being on the rare side. Wildlife is important to our community's culture and ecosystem. A single great horned owl alone can consume approximately 1,400 rodents in a year. Given the importance of these birds, keeping them healthy is critical to maintaining a proper balance in our environment.

One big threat is anticoagulant rat poisons, which cause internal bleeding to kill its target. Unfortunately, secondary unintended targets, such as owls and pets, can also be killed. This ultimately leads to increases in rodent populations over time and places a burden on non-profit rescue organizations who deal with the consequences. If we can preserve and protect these raptors, we give them a chance to do their job of maintaining a balance in our environment.

You can make a big difference to protect our wildlife and pets by not using anticoagulant rat poisons, which are often used in rat bait boxes. These poison baits actually lure rats to your property.

There are better ways to control the rodent population, including:

- Keeping garbage properly sealed
- Maintaining frequent trash pickup
- Sealing all points of entry to homes and buildings
- Removing pet food from outdoor areas
- Avoiding spilled bird food and ground fruits
- Requiring your pest control companies to not use anticoagulant rat poisons (both first and second generation are unsafe). Safer options are Bromethalin (such as Fastrac, Assault) or Cholecalciferol (such as Terad3)

Safety Harbor is known for its wildlife, and we have a special responsibility to protect it. In memory of the Philippe Park owls and other wildlife and pets in our area that are at-risk, I urge every resident of the beautiful City of Safety Harbor to do your part.

Sincerely,

Mayor Joe Ayoub

SMOKE ALARMS by: Andrew Portale, Firefighter/Paramedic

Spring forward!
Test your smoke alarms.

Change replaceable batteries at least once a year.

FEMA | U.S. Fire
Administration | U.S. Fire
Safety Council

What if I told you that 60% of residential structure fire fatalities were avoidable just by maintaining functional smoke alarms? We're here to offer suggestions for selecting a device, installation, and maintenance. National fire industry leaders recommend interconnected detection systems so that one activated smoke alarm will cause the entire home network to sound off. We believe everyone in the home should have ample time to react, because rapid fire growth might mean precious minutes to evacuate.

When installing your smoke alarms, place a detector outside each bedroom and on every level of your home. Additionally, maintain a 10-foot clearance from cooking appliances to prevent accidental alarm activation. All residents should recognize the alarm sound and understand what actions to take when executing a predetermined evacuation plan. Now that you've installed your smoke alarms, you must test them monthly based on the manufacturer's instructions and replace the 9-volt batteries annually at a minimum. If you recognize that pesky "chirp" sound, this means the battery is low and requires replacement. An adage offers an easy reminder: "Change your clocks, change your batteries," which coincides with fall and spring daylight savings.

Did you know that our Fire Prevention Division recently partnered with the American Red Cross to give out free smoke detectors with 10-year batteries? To receive your free smoke alarm or seek further assistance, please call (727)-724-1520 or message us on our Facebook page.

SAFETY HARBOR PUBLIC LIBRARY

OCEANS OF POSSIBILITIES - SUMMER READING PROGRAM @ YOUR LIBRARY

by: Lisa Kothe, Library Director

When the bell rings signaling the end of the school year, students of all ages can't afford to take long breaks from reading. Studies show youth that don't read over the summer, especially reluctant or struggling readers, lose important ground. One of the best places for children to become comfortable with reading is your local library. Beginning June 6, we invite readers of all ages to join this year's Oceans of Possibilities summer reading program to prevent the summer reading slide.

Logging your reading is simple, using Beanstack, found on our website: SafetyHarborLibrary.com, and accessing Events & Programs, then Reading Programs.

The first 25 children, 25 tweens, and 10 teens to sign up for summer reading will receive a goody bag. After reading 12 and 24 hours, visit the Children's Desk to collect prizes! The first 12 children to complete 24 hours win a jumbo squishy and the first 15 tweens and 15 teens to complete 24 hours each win a Squismallow and are entered to a raffle for fantastic grand prizes. Readers who log the most amount of time in each age group win a special prize!

Since we don't think kids should have all the fun, adults too can join summer reading and be eligible for prizes.

Visit our website for programs and events for all ages, including Terrific Tuesdays for children, which kicks off on June 7, 11:00 AM with a Drum Circle presented by Giving Tree Music and continues with other special weekly programs until August 2. Monday Fundays for ages 4-8 are offered at 2:00 PM and story times for all ages continue throughout the summer.

A poster for 'BECOME COLLEGE- AND CAREER-READY!'. It features a photo of a smiling woman in a graduation cap and gown. Text on the left says 'BECOME COLLEGE- AND CAREER-READY!', 'Earn an Accredited High School Diploma and a Career Certificate', and a list: '• Accredited', '• Free Through Your Library', '• 100% Online', '• Transfer Credits'. A green button says 'Are You Ready?'. The 'careeronline HIGH SCHOOL' logo is at the bottom. On the right, a large graphic says 'EARN A DIPLOMA THROUGH THE LIBRARY' with a graduation cap icon. Text below it says 'Visit: cityofsafetyharbor.com/cohs', 'Email: shplref@cityofsafetyharbor.com', 'Call: 727-724-1525 x4112', and 'IT'S NEVER TOO LATE TO GRADUATE! SUMMER CAMP FUN IS HERE IN SAFETY HARBOR!

by: Christine McWilliams, Recreation Supervisor

This summer, we will be running our ever so popular part day camps which offer endless opportunities for your child to make summer memories that will last a lifetime! Some of our returning part day camps include: soccer, all sports, volleyball, cooking, theatre, fishing, kayaking, standup paddleboard, art, painting, clay, magic, balloon art, and STEAM camps. In addition to those fan favorites, we've got new camps that are sure to become favorites, including: 3D printing, African drumming, STEAM frostbitten, build your own game, nature craft, weather watchers, flying wild, farm discovery, girls in America, academy of wizardry, and many more!

And we've got something for all age ranges, from our Wee Camps for children ages four to six, all the way to teens! For the older campers, we have Junior Teen Camp and Active Teen Adventure Camp in June and July. And Bricks 4 Kidz is back with a fun lineup, including: LEGO Masters Theme Mashup, Minecraft, and Superheroes Camps.

For older teens, entering 9th–12th grades, who need to stay busy or are working toward Bright Futures hours, our Teen Leaders program is an excellent way to do just that. Teen Leaders learn leadership, professionalism, and communication skills while assisting instructors, staff, and counselors at our summer camps. Part-Time Teen Leaders will help with our specialty part-day camps throughout the summer. Shifts range from one and half to six hours in the morning, afternoon, or evening, depending on selected camps. Teens can select camps based on their availability, vacation schedule, and hours needed for Bright Futures. The cost for the Teen Leaders programs is $75 for the summer.

Camps fill up fast, so be sure to check out SafetyHarborCamps.com and register today!
